"After 30 years in a building originally constructed for this client, time had come to reunite staff that were previously relocated off site by constant growth. After completing many projects for this client over the past 25 years, Trojan Horse Interiors were engaged to design and construct their relocation into a new corporate head office located in a refurbished two level building on a landmark West Perth site.

A light, bright reception and waiting area have expansive views to the street and access to the meeting spaces is via a gallery making reference to the client's previous corporate headquarters. Natural stone to the counter front and floor to match the buildings recent refurbishment creates integration between the base building and the new fit-out.

Boardroom, conference and meeting rooms interleave via operable walls to a full bar area for client entertaining. Recessed display cases with feature lighting highlight the companies various awards in addition to sporting and charity allegiances. Hidden electronic presentation equipment creates a streamlined appearance and an electronic booking system has been integrated.

Application of a refreshed corporate identity will see this outstanding working environment serve the client for another 30 years!"
